Introduction

This book provides forms for many of the categories of expenses, receipts, labor, and financial summaries needed by most agricultural related businesses using cash accounting methods. Column headings are included for major items with some columns remaining blank for your own headings.

The forms are arranged to facilitate transferring totals to income tax forms and to help complete end-of-the-year analysis. The newest version of IRS Form 1040-Schedule F (Tax Year 2014) was used for the format of income and deductions. Please use care in transferring totals from this record book to the tax forms.

Cash Expenses, Sales, and Income: Enter cash farm business expenses and cash sales and income items in the Farm Business Expense section (pages 2-49) and Cash Sales of Farm Procured Items and Other Farm Income section (pages 80-91). There are numerous pages in these sections to accommodate months with more than a page of expenses or sales; just record the current month at the top of each page.

Items Purchased for Resale: To meet accounting and IRS requirements information on the purchase and the resale of these items (for example, stocker cattle) must be documented. This record book has two sections to keep track of these transactions. First, record purchases in the section titled Purchase of Livestock and Other Items Bought for Resale (pages 50-55). Second, use the section titled Sale of Livestock and Other Items Bought for Resale (pages 92-103) to record information about the sale of each of these items. Use the column titled Reference # to track the entries across forms.

Capital Purchase and Sales: Record information about capital purchases in the Journal for Purchases of Capital Assets section (pages 56-67). Information in this section should then be provided to your tax preparer along with information for completing and maintaining a depreciation schedule for all the farm's capital assets. During the year that a capital asset is sold or disposed of, the pertinent information should be recorded in the Journal for Sales and Disposal of Capital Assets section (pages 104-109).

Labor and Payroll: Two sections are provided to help in recording employee information and payment to state and federal agencies. Use the section titled Individual Employee Payroll Ledger (pages 68-77) for recording individual employee information; for example, hours worked, unit harvested, and pay rates to determine gross wages and amount paid. To record information and payments for federal and state income tax and Social Security payments for all employees, use the Withholding and Social Security Payments for Employees section (pages 78-79). For federal instructions see IRS Publication 51 (Circular A) Agricultural Employer's Tax Guide for additional information on wage withholding, earned income credit, Social Security and Medicare taxes, and payment tables. For state instructions see the Virginia Department of Taxation publication Virginia Employer Withholding Instructions and Tables for additional information on wage withholding and filing requirements.

Summary Sections: Summary of expenses for each month (pages 2-49) should be transferred to the Annual Summary of Farm Business Expenses section (pages 110-111). The annual totals, with error checking (please check your math), can be transferred to IRS Form 1040-Schedule F and to support costs analysis.

NET FARM INCOME

Summary of income and sales (pages 80-91) should be transferred to the Annual Summary of Cash Sales of Farm Produced Items and Other Farm Income section (pages 112-113). The annual totals, with error checking (please check your math), can be transferred to IRS Form 1040-Schedule F and to support costs analysis.

Income and expenses from cash and capital sales should be transferred monthly to the Cash Flow Summary section (pages 114-115). The cash-flow section can be used to track the level of cash in the farm business, support requests for a line-of-credit, and to analyze and project flow requirements.

In the Farm Loan Summary section (page 116), record all information about existing liabilities and/or new debts incurred during the year. This form should be completed at the end of each business year, for example, December 31. This information is used to develop the liabilities side of the Net Worth Statement (page 119) and supports analysis of the solvency, liquidity, and repayment capacity of that farm business. Also included in the Net Worth Statement is the listing of all assets owned by the farm business and their current value. Assets should be valued at the same time as the liabilities.

Summary income, sales, expense, and assets are recorded in the Profit and Loss Statement (page 120) to provide a measure of the profitability (financial success) of the farm businesses or net farm income.

Additional Forms: Two additional forms are included to help in record keeping and tax preparation. On page 1, record information on crop production and land use. Second, record non-farm income and expenses on pages 117-118 to assist in keeping track of family financial matters and support completing your family's IRS Form 1040.

Important definitions

Capital assets: An item with a useful life of more than one year, for example, a tractor, breeding stock. IRS rules do not allow capital assets to be treated as a cash expense or ordinary income.

Cash sale, cash income, and ordinary income: Income received from the sale of a farm product or service produced on your farm, for example, milk, calves, grain, cotton, vegetables, bedding plants, hay rides, etc. The income categories used in this book correspond to the categories used in the current (tax year 2014) IRS Form 1040-Schedule F.

Cash expense: Expenses incurred in producing a product on your farm, for example, fertilizer, feed, veterinary services, medications, etc. that normally have a useful life of less than one year. The categories used in this book correspond to the categories used in the current (tax year 2014) IRS Form 1040-Schedule F.

Items bought for resale: Stocker livestock are the best example. Stocker animals are purchased fed and resold. The net gain or loss of these transactions are reported to the IRS and require records of both the purchase and the sale.

Basis: For tax and record-keeping purposes, the term basis refers to the remaining tax value left in an asset. If the asset is fully depreciated or "off the books," then its basis is zero. For land, basis normally refers to the original value purchase price, when the property was acquired.
